dance in the air

To be an artist of life moving in light contributing to a global energy where dreams are realized and obstacles overcome this is our world together with love
we transcend the norm and create possibilities gracefully and passionately we choose this dance.

forever altered

The essence within me the body surround to now run free my perception new my vision clear in sky of blue
a courage to fight a passion there toward the purest light to the drink of fresh air to golden dreams in all that we share.

sweet gestures

Like the taste of honey your warm smile beckons the very touch of your skin sends shivers down my spine and your eyes capture there, all of my being to you, I surrender my mind, body, and spirit.

perspective

Hand-in-hand, my Love you and i

now forever

i look forward to, and will cherish each and every moment together.

my soul mate, my friend, my true Love.

it is written in the stars and blows in the wind ~ our romantic fate entwined.

progress moving forward in clear perspective.

september morn

As I walked along the shore a gale blew into me I was overcome by its awakening sensation it spoke to me with a tongue of Love understanding the intention, I embraced it and in the moment, life spun in circles my direction now altered I took a new path it welcomed me in warmth and beauty the waves around fell to calm the winds now lived only inside of me I walked with grace beside, with peace behind,
and with Love ahead to lead the way serenity sang quietly in my ear joy filled my heart and welled my eye with tear.

Two bodies, two souls, one common spirit; each evolving and growing to love itself; these souls found each other in the name of fate; it was through divine intervention as stars streaked across the evening sky;
one spirit was forged and united, forever; it was a powerful union; mind, body, and spirit in partnership there is a bona fide truth; unconditional Love.

the authentic nature of now and into future development; always attune to and in grace with full expression; in a peaceful state with our environment and universe; with a true appreciation for those surrounding in a blanket of light;
knowing that everyone shares time and space in God's balance.

- Katai

The space between shooting stars the space between lovers the space between us light, love, laughs
there is a unity
there is a bond
there is life
it is real
it is magical
it is forever the space between is beautiful the space between transcends this world the space between is now to celebrate this space to embrace it to cherish each and every moment within it a new purpose found a passion to explore a new beginning trust the universe trust your heart trust our future, hand-in-hand.

- KATAI

As I look behind
I see a year of growth;
a bond between two free spirits.
hand-in-hand we embrace the now of things and with courage beside, we welcome our future.
each moment together is a gift from God; one that we both know to cherish.
the universe has brought us to this place, with but one mission ~ to Love.

-Katai

I may be miles away, but you are right here with me. i take you everywhere, my princess! you live and breathe inside of me! i think of you and smile! your name is like a mantra, I say it and in the mystical chant I am taken into a warm blanket of love. there, I snuggle.
you still give me butterflies.
you are my true love.
you are my other half.
this I believe.
i miss and love you!

-Katai

True love comes in off the water like a swift gale.
time falls to the way-side, as for true love yields to none.
you can opt to take sail into the mystic or you can turn away from what is truth, warmth, energy, support, and happiness. for many, the chance never befalls to dance the tides. others will later regret the absence of initiative to follow their internal compass.
some, blessed by the mouth of God, take sail into the unchartered waters of love and tack her sultry breath.

-Katai

As I listen to the crashing waves upon the hard pressed sand and stare up into starry night with eyes of peaceful hope visions of your beauty run wild inside of me tranquility breathes fresh air, serenity befalls and life takes a turn toward righteousness how can I begin to describe the cosmic oneness, the reality that supplements me, that completes me.
I fear that I cannot.
not to do justice in the name of truth.

across the table

From the very first glance to the miraculous shooting stars i welcomed this romance our souls found refuge there a reunion of sorts on the road ahead, i share words were offered in kind regard a sense of peace and hope danced beside emotions rushed my heart, complete bombard high spirits were born that night fate played out its hand my dreams soar aloft the clouds of white from across the table i met candid bliss my heart's cadence, forever loyal you and i, my diva, strawberry kiss.
